Bonfire, Pep Rally Kick Off Homecoming Activities

By Betty Spradlyn

All is not quite on the Hill today, as Western once again welcomes its alumni, visitors, and friends for its 26th annual Homecoming. This occasion will be climaxed by a football game tomorrow in the stadium with Western's top football foe, the Murray Thoroughbreds.

Kicking off the activities tonight is a bonfire and pep rally at the baseball field at 7 p.m., followed by a snake dance down town. Beginning at 9 p.m., a Homecoming dance will take place in the Paul L. Garrett Student Center until 1 a.m., with music furnished by the Red and Gray orchestra.

Tomorrow features many activities. An all-day exhibit will be given by the Penmanship department in room 310, Cherry Hall.

The College Heights Herald breakfast will be at 8 a.m. in the Student Center. The music department will have its breakfast at 9 a.m. at The Student Center.

A coffee sponsored by the Art Club will be held at 9 a.m. in the Kentucky Building, where there will be a watercolor exhibit by Prof. Ivan Wilson. From 8 to 11 a.m. in the art gallery, Cherry Hall, Room 300, photographs by Herman Lowe entitled "Europe and Bibleland - 1955," will be shown.

At 10:30, Homecoming chapel will take place in Van Meter. Those attending will vote for one of the three finalists for Homecoming queen, which was announced Wednesday.

The Western Players and the Arts and Crafts club will hold luncheons at 12 noon in the Student Center.

The annual Homecoming parade will go downtown as well as around the campus. This change of plans has been decided since the last edition of the Herald.

As the plans now stand, the elements in the parade procession will line up on State street at 12:30. From there, it will go to the Main Street side of the Square and over to College street, up College to 13th and back over to State and up to Diddle Dorm. Then, it will go to the ramp leading onto the football field. Half of the floats will remain on the north end of the track and the other half will remain on the south end, while the units file off the field after being judged.

At 2 p.m. in the stadium, the Toppers clash with Murray in an important contest for both. At half-time, the queen will be announced, and crowned during the ceremonies.

Students, alumni, and friends will attend the reception which will immediately follow the game. It will be in the Student Center, where refreshments will be served, and hosts and hostesses representing each class will welcome the guests. At 7 p.m., the alumni "W" club will hold its annual dinner at the Helm Hotel with a separate dinner for their wives and sweethearts.

Bringing to a close our 26th Homecoming, a Shadow Hop will take place at the Student Center tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to midnight, with music by the Red and Gray orchestra.

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, keynote speaker, extended congratulations to Western's Board of Regents, residents of Warren County and all the people of Kentucky on the selection of Thompson to head the state institution.

Governor Wetherby told the group: "We wish for him and his administration the best of progress. Kelly needs your support to build Western into the kind of school he and you want it to be. He needs the support of all Kentucky."

In answer to the governor's remarks, Thompson said, "I pledge to you that we shall seek to develop on that beautiful hill an institution dedicated to certain specific things."

"Western is truly one of the great institutions of our nation. It shall be dedicated above all else to integrity. . . to produce young men and women who will make good citizens. I make this my pledge."

HILLTOPICS

By DON BELL

The fever and furor in the recent governors election was a mild thing compared to the recent elections held on the Hill. Besides nominating class presidents, voting for campus favorites and Mr. and Miss _____ in class meetings, the average student could not get through the snack bar without having to vote for class officers, "Who's Who," and Homecoming queen.

This bery of elections brings candidates for the various offices and positions out into the campus limelight and reveals some interesting facts of these candidates' personalities. Mild "Mittys" come out of their dream worlds and begin to fight tooth and nail to gain the honor positions. Toothpaste smiles light the faces of usually dour faced individuals.

A typical example of the most verbose of these campaigners is the I'll buy you a cup of coffee and how about voting for me type. This person is a friend of the students and a living advertisement of the Colgate Company. He is as ready with a smile as he is willing to agree with you on every subject except the merits of his opposition who is a grand guy but—Your problems are his problems, until you cast your vote.

A more subtle type is the I'll rest on my past record type. Wearing a confident smile, he will point out his glorious achievement in the past and let you judge for yourself. If asked about his opponent, he shrugs his shoulders and intimates you have asked about the qualifications of a low grade moron. This type adores to whisper election gossip in your ear while you are trying to study in the library.

The I'm the choice of the students individual stands on a platform of, "I'm just plain me, if you want me I'll take the job." He steers clear of the student body and relies on his friends to boost his cause. This character tries rather obviously to be folksy and down on the level of the "average" student. If caught in public, he grins disarmingly and will talk about anything except the coming election.

Elections involving feminine beauty also bring out varied types of young ladies to be the Venus of the campus or of certain organizations.

The I'm just one of the girls type relies on the less beautiful friends to gain the sought after position. Her character is as pure as the apple blossom in May, and she would never defile herself as her rival does by seeking the vote of boys. She is the wholesome outdoor girl whose only indoor sport is reading Jane Austin. Friend of all, intimate of none, she's just one of the girls.

As direct as the scent of her dusky perfume, the opposite of the wholesome type scarcely gives her own sex a thought when there are votes to be brought out. She spends her time in the most obvious places on the campus spreading her charm on any male who glances her way. Ready to spend her lunch money for clothes and to complete her wardrobe by borrowing her roommates most elegant creations, this charmer always looks the part of a fashion model. She's a "milk woman," and knows by the time he comes out of his perfumed fog that she will have his vote.

In any election there is always a one of the gang type. This hopeful relies on her crowd to get her elected. The odd thing about this is, if you are eligible to vote you have become one of the crowd. Obscure contacts you might have had with this aspirant are remembered as "one of the happiest time in my college life." Of course this occasion may have been studying for an English test or an "lon't the line long" greeting in front of the water fountain. In her eyes you are part of the gang who takes care of all its members. It is wise for the person who falls for her line to keep some sort of contact with his old friends as he may need their company after the election.

In the elections where groups of people are involved, the candidates are not as obvious as their brothers who are running for specific offices and positions. In these elections, it is considered bad manners to come out and ask for votes. Aspirants use more subtle methods, such as looking over the shoulder of the voter while he is marking his ballot. He will hang around the polls all day long just in case a person needs one more to complete his list and the candidates shining face may suggest a fine prospect. Another device of this type is that of remarking to his fellow candidate that he has just finished voting for him.

It is said that politicians have exhausted all the devices for getting votes, but they would do well to organize an observation class on the Hill to learn the real rudiments of campaigning.

Kentucky Building News

October had been a busy month in the Kentucky library. In addition to the students and local people who use the library regularly, visitors have come from elsewhere. Working on historical and genealogical research, they have come from such places as District of Columbia, Florida, California, Pennsylvania, Kansas and Missouri.

Kentuckians who have registered in the library last month were from Louisville, Columbia, Hopkinsville, Russellville, Franklin, Glasgow, Edmonson, Scottsville, Edmonson, Oakland and Smiths Grove.

Of particular interest were E. M. Manley, Los Angeles, California and Edward Coffman of Russellville.

Mr. Manley has contributed many valuable records to the library over the past several years.

Mr. Coffman, author of The Story of Russellville, published in 1931, is now doing the preliminary work on a history of Logan county which he hopes to complete within the year.

Interested in getting your Christmas gifts and supplies early? The Kentucky Museum has many lovely items for this occasion. A selection of Christmas cards have just arrived. Other items include address books, special book matches. Place mats, gift enclosures or place cards, note paper and post cards.

A choice group of bird and flower prints are available and suitable for framing.

Gayle Carver, curator of the museum, will help you make a selection. Contact him any time the Kentucky Building is open. Hours are Monday through Friday, 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday hours are 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

The museum is open Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

Our Obligation To Western Alumni

Homecoming weekend is here, and most of us are ready for the snake dance, bonfire, dances, mums, football tussle and all the things that go into making a homecoming.

Yet, Homecoming is not primarily a huge holiday for the residents of the Hill, but it is what its name implies, a homecoming for the Western alumni. This is the time of one of our most enjoyable college experiences, but we should not forget that it is also a time when we have a duty to perform.

At a poorly attended pep rally held before the Western-Evanville game, Coach Diddle clearly brought out this problem by stating that we are "playing the part of hosts this weekend, and it is our obligation to make this an enjoyable weekend for our alumni." He said that our smiles and greetings would mean more than the most elaborate reception or colorful football game.

Today and tomorrow hundreds of returnees will come to the Hill. These alumni are a vital part of Western, for without them the spirit which dominates the Hill would be impossible. They are not ordinary people, but they are people we can justly be proud of, leaders in all walks of life.

It is our obligation to let the alumni know that we appreciate their interest in Western and that we are interested in them. In the rush of activities of today and tomorrow, let us take time out to uphold the Western tradition of friendliness and cordiality by making the alumni feel welcome.

Western's Inter-collegiate Debate squad went into action this week with its first try-out round of debates. The debates were held at 4 p.m. in the Paul L. Garrett Student Center on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. From the pairings in this first round, a second round of practice debates will be set up from which the teams to represent the college in tournament debate will be chosen.

Debate Coach Russell H. Miller has accepted the invitation to the Kentucky Debate Tournament to be held at the University of Kentucky, on December 2, as the first trip for the Western debaters. On December 8, Western will inaugurate a tournament of its own to be held annually on the campus. ## Raymond Ward Has Valuable Document

Raymond T. Ward, a senior from Park City, has in his possession a land grant signed by Patrick Henry in 1784. The deed, written on parchment, yellowed with age, is the property of Raymond's aunt, Miss Margaret Rock, of Aberdeen. Miss Rock received the deed from her father, Hamilton Rock, who was a surveyor in Ohio and Butler counties. Mr. Rock obtained the deed in connection with his surveying duties and it has been treasured by his daughter for many years. She has kept it carefully wrapped in a leather case.

In this deed, Patrick Henry, Governor of Virginia, granted Gabriel Madison and William May a track of land containing 2400 acres. At this time Kentucky was still a part of the Commonwealth of Virginia and contained only three counties, Lincoln, Fayette, and Jefferson. The track of land granted by Governor Henry lies by Indian Camp creek, a branch of Green River, in what was then Jefferson county, now called Ohio and Butler counties.

Raymond's aunt, Miss Rock, is considering placing the land grant in the Kentucky Building on a loan basis.

Jerome Stewart Wins Speech Contest

Jerome Stewart, senior at College High, won the annual "I Speak for Democracy" contest, November 4, in competition with contestants from Warren County and city schools.

A fifteen year old senior and vice-president of the Beta club, Jerome is also a member of the College High Debate team.

Prizes consisted of a pen and pencil set and twenty-five dollar bond.

Rodes Speaks To History Club

The College Clinic Is A Busy Place At All Times

By Nona Taylor

The college clinic is a busy and interesting place this time of year. Many students might not know about the health facilities of the college.

The college clinic is located in the basement of the training school, its office hours are from 8-12 and 1-4, Monday through Friday. Miss Bertie L. Redd, a colorful figure on the Hill, is the college nurse. Dr. G. M. Wells, a sincere and friendly person, is the college physician.

You may ask, "Do many students visit the clinic?" There is an average of 50 persons or more coming in each day. The busiest time of the year is at the first of school. All new students especially freshmen have to have their physical examinations, this calls for weighing, testing eyes, and giving shots. After this rush the clinic settles down for a fairly regular schedule. This includes giving medicine for colds, painting throats, etc. But every once in a while excitement is stirred when someone sprains an ankle in a physical education class or cuts a hand on a flask in chemistry. This is the time you really feel the need of a clinic like the one here.

A Day At Clinic
For a broader outlook on the clinic lets spend a day in the clinic with Miss Redd and Dr. Wells. Miss Redd arrives at the office around 8:00 a.m. Her first task is to sterilize all the needles, getting ready to give shots. Before she finishes this three or four have come in to be weighed. While she sets at her desk, usually making out or working on reports, ten or eleven students come in wanting their typhoid boosters and eight or ten will want something for a cold. There are also the training school children who sometimes end up with skinned knees during their recess period. Around 11 a.m. Miss Redd leaves the office to attend to another phase of her work, the college infirmary. She prepares the lunch for any patients that might be there. At 1 p.m. she is back at the office and ready to start work again, by this time Dr. Wells is here too. Again there will be several typhoid shots to be given and physicals to be given to students that hadn't come in earlier. There will be around 15 or 20 consultations with Dr. Wells during the afternoon plus one or two of these minor accidents that were mentioned earlier. At 4 p.m. the work at the clinic is over. But Miss Redd still has work to do, she must go to the infirmary and prepare supper for the patients. After this is completed she is thorough for the day except for emergency calls at night.

What would the students do if they didn't have a clinic that they are free to go to and a nurse and doctor like Miss Redd and Dr. Wells?

Lowes Tour Near-East

Mr. Herman Lowe, local sports equipment owner, and his wife Emma Lowe, fourth grade teacher in the Training School, took their fourth trip aboard this summer. Leaving on the "Barren River" to New York. From New York they flew to Geneva where they departed for the East.

The Lowes visited Lutor, historic cities of Biblical times such as Syria, Damascus, and ruins of Tyre and Sidon, two cities that were destroyed by fire and brimstone.

The Lowes had a day of ups and downs when they came from the Dead Sea which is 1300 feet below sea level to Jerusalem which is 2600 feet above sea level. Holy places were toured including Jordan River, Bethlehem, Calvary and the Holy Sepulchre.

In modern Asia they visited Loraell, Beirut, and New Jerusalem. The entire trip lasted 38 days, and travel was done by Eastern Airlines, TWA, PAA, Middle East, and KLM airlines, train, bus car, boat, horse-drawn carriage, donkey and camel back.

Mr. Lowe says the most photogenic spots were the Bavarian Alps, old Jerusalem and parts of London.

Shown above is the lobby of the newly renovated Potter Hall. Occupants are now preparing for the Homecoming festivities and events. The alumni are invited to visit the remodeled dormitory.

Danforth Grants Available Now

Danforth grants are now being offered to young women interested in campus religious work and to men desiring graduate work in the field of college teaching.

The Danforth Foundation offers appointments to a limited number of young women who have just graduated from college, and who are interested in the experience of Christian work on a college campus. These are not study fellowships because the Danforth graduate learns by experience.

The award covers the period of July 30, 1956 to May 31, 1957.

The grant includes $1600 to be paid in ten installments to cover living expenses and other costs on the campus of her appointment. She also receives travel allowance.

Five weeks are spent in training at Camp Minnawaco, Stony Lake, Shelly, Michigan, during the summer.

The qualifications sought in the Danforth graduate are a good religious background, good character, personality and attitude.

Danforth graduate fellowships are given annually to approximately fifty men preparing for college teaching who, at the time of application have not had previous graduate study.

Appointment as a Danforth Fellow is one of the major academic honors available for the student entering graduate school in preparation for college teaching. Selection is made on the basis of academic ability, personality, integrity and character, including faith in the Christian tradition.

The appointment is for one year, with expectation of annual renewal throughout the years of graduate study.

The Danforth Foundation offers financial assistance to its Fellows according to individual need, limiting the grant to $1800 for the single man and $2400 for the married man.

Application must be completed by February 15, 1956.

Students interested in these grants and fellowships may contact Dr. Earl A. Moore or Mr. W. C. Lawton

ABOVE IS PICTURED the architect's drawing of a proposed new main entrance to the Western campus. When it will be built we do not know, as it has been designed as a memorial entrance and will await the time when some individual or organization finances it into reality. The proposed new entrance was designed by Greenville, Smith, Architect with the Cold Springs Granite Company, of Cold Springs, Minnesota. Western supplied numerous photographs, elevation and rough drawings, which were used by the architect in drawing five separate. A cross sectional survey of student and faculty member opinion brought about the soliciting of drawing pictured above. The entrance as proposed by the architect would be created from red and grey granite, with the main pylon consisting of a solid twenty foot slab of red granite. Inscribed on the pylon would be, "Western Kentucky State College", and below this in script would appear, "The Spirit Makes The Master". The name of the donor would also appear on the pylon. All other pieces of granite would be grey and like the pylon, finished with polished surface. Dr. J.R. Whitmer, of the Biology Department, is chairman of the committee in charge of the proposed new entranceway.

Toppers Form Boys Club

Through the efforts of Mrs. Nelle Gooch Travelstead, of the music department, and services of three Western students, David Davison, Curtis Whitman and Gene Eisenmenger, a boys' club has been organized at Delafield.

This club was organized October 26 as an extension unit of the Bowling Green Boys' club which was formed in 1947.

Early last summer, a group headed by Mrs. Travelstead formed the Delafield Improvement League to work with young people of that area.

This league strived on a next to nothing budget through the entire summer. Finally the Delafield school was made headquarters and regularly scheduled activities were arranged for the children of that section.

The Bowling Green Boys' club was unable to finance the branch operation, therefore the League took over, employing David Davison as director at a small salary. Davison is a senior, History major from Louisville. He has been assistant coach for the Western's football team and also has had experience in the Louisville recreation program.

Working directly with Davison in management of the program are two volunteers, Curtis Whitman, a sophomore Economics and Sociology major from Louisville, and Gene Eisenmenger, a freshman Economics and Sociology major from Louisville.

Two classrooms at the Delafield School and a large hallway will be utilized for indoor activities and a large playground area has been lighted to make possible recreational programs out of doors.

Members of the Delafield branch are to be considered full-fledged Bowling Green Boys' club members and will be entitled to the use of the club facilities on days and nights when the Delafield club is not open.

In order for the unit to meet minimum requirements for a charter from Boys' Club of America, it will be open two evenings a week, on a nine-month basis. The charter will be sought for immediately.

Eighty boys were enrolled the first day and membership potential is more than twice that number.

Why do more college men and women smoke

VICEROYS
than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance—cellulose—found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip... and Viceroy costs only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROY than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Writers Club Holds First Meeting

By Bill Thomas

While the nation's factories were turning out the first '56 model automobiles and while the people of Kentucky were wrapped up in the political affair of electing a new governor, something new also was taking form on the Hill.

It is the newest club—a creative writers organization. The club held its first meeting on Tuesday, November 8.

The informal meeting was presided over by Miss Justine Lynn, of the English department, who will sponsor the writers.

Dr. Gordon Wilson, head of the English department, spoke briefly. Then there was an informal discussion by members of the club.

The purpose of the club is for the creative writers to get together once a month to criticize each other's work. In this way, the club hopes to build a higher standard of writing and a greater appreciation for the achievements of intellectual writers.

This group plans to encourage students who desire to be creative writers, and if enough college level material is compiled, the club intends to publish a literary magazine.

Forty-Five Attend B.S.U. Convention

Approximately 45 Western students attended the Kentucky Baptist Student Union Convention in Campbellsville, November 4-6.

The theme of the convention was "God's World-My Life Now." The principal speakers were Dr. Culbert G. Rutenber, Dr. George K. Schweitzer, Dr. William H. Preston, and Dr. W. F. Howard. Dr. Howard gave the dedication message.

The Bowling Green B. S. U. Choir, directed by Jane Stewart, was one of three choirs chosen to sing at the convention. They sang "Sit Down Servant" and "God Is The Light of the World" Saturday night. Jean Jennings, pianist, accompanied the choir.

Shirley Guthrie Prefers Continental Culture

By Jim Wilson

Blond, friendly, intelligent, and well versed on most subjects, Shirley Guthrie is quite an asset to her class and to Western. "Pinkey" as she is called by most of her friends, has gained a wealth of knowledge from her four year stay in Europe.

From 1949 to 1952, Shirley lived in Frankfurt, Germany with her parents. Her father, a Captain in the United States Army, was stationed there with the occupation forces. During this four year visit, Shirley became familiar with the language, customs, and people of Germany. She speaks three languages.

Travel through Europe stands out in her memories as an experience never to be forgotten. Paris, Norway, Vienna, and many other places Americans dream of seeing, became a reality to her.

Shirley's most memorable incident's were the time she fell down the steps in the Place de Versailles and the time she got stuck in an elevator in Paris. The first mishap occurred when she was fourteen and had just begun to wear high heels. The second experience came one year later; and a French policeman came to her rescue. Pinkey said, "I never saw him again but I certainly was embarrassed."

Shirley was born in Scottsville, Kentucky; went to high school in Columbus, Georgia and in Germany; and plans to go back to Europe some day. Her majors are history and languages, which are a foundation for a most unusual career. Her one desire is to be an archivist.

While in Europe, Shirley participated in the German Youth Activities which provided picnics, bicycle trips, and many other types of activities for the German teenagers. She says, "German boys are very cultured and refined. Above all, they are gentlemen." (Stand up and take notice men!)

Ice skating, skiing, swimming in the cold waters of Norway, boating on the fjords and eating home cooked German food would be fascinating to us, but these things are everyday occurrences for some Europeans. Shirley is definitely in love with Europe, despite the fact that she is an American.

She says, "Some day I'll go back, for archeology, or just to see the place once again. All of us could let a little of this culture from the "old country" rub off on us."

Iva Scott Club Holds First Meeting

Holding its first meeting of the year, the Iva Scott home economics club met in the Cedar House Tuesday night, November 7 at 7 p.m. Sponsored by Miss Lotta Day, head of the Home Economics department, the club extended a welcome to all new members. Pictures for the Tallasman were made.

Officers elected for the year were Mary Lou Taylor, president; Ann Carr, vice-president; Ann Ireland, secretary; Louise Alton, treasurer; Joyce Littrell, song leader and Alice Norris, reporter.

The next meeting of the club will be held December 13.

Miss Day Meets With State Fair Board

The State Fair Board at Louisville has chosen Miss Lotta Day, head of the Home Economics department, to be present at an Advisory Committee meeting at the Kentucky Hotel, Wednesday, November 16. Because of her interest and knowledge of the needs of the department, Miss Day is to assist in selecting equipment to be used in the Women's and Home Economics Department exhibit area of the New State Fair and Exposition Center.

Three Hilltoppers Play Last College Grid Game

By John Lyon

The final whistle ending the Homecoming game Saturday will bring a bevy of mixed emotions to the flushed faces within the majestic columns of Western's stadium. Probably none will be more perplexing than those of Western's veteran grid warriors Jerry Nassano, Vernon "Tank" Wilson, and Dave Patton.

Jerry, a Math major from Newport, filling in the shoes of injured quarterback Whitley Sanders in his sophomore year, has led the Toppers in superb fashion since that game three years ago. Jerry is one of the finest passers and field generals ever to don a Western uniform.

"Tank" (an appropriate nickname), a geography major from Evansville, Ind., after a brief encounter with injuries, returned to the lineup last year in rampaging fashion and has proven himself to be one of the most rugged and accomplished linemen in the O. V. C.

Then there's that fellow Patton. A geography major from Chattanooga, Dave has posed somewhat of a problem to his O. V. C. rivals the past two years by plugging up a large hole in Western's brawny line. Being both an alert defensive man and an aggressive blocker, Dave has been a very valuable man to have around.

These three seniors have given invaluable support and depth to a young crew composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores.

So as these seniors don their cleats for the last time at Western they must glance back at their Hilltop career with a nostalgic gleam in their eyes. The Herald is proud to pay tribute to and salute three of the finest footballers in the state.

Clayton Given Clean Bill Of Health

Coach Jack Clayton returned to Bowling Green Tuesday, November 8, from Mayo Clinic where he underwent precautionary surgery following a stripping operation on his side as a result of a tumor. The Clinic reported that no malignancy was present and gave Coach Clayton a clean bill of health.

Western-Murray Clash Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Hilltoppers of Western play their last football game of the season against their arch-rival the Murray Throughbreds here in their Homecoming game tilt at 3 p.m.

Western should be up for this big battle after a 46-6 tune-up win over the Evansville College Aces here last Saturday.

This will be the last game for the Toppers, Tank Wilson, Jerry Nassano and Dave Patton.

Last year the Throughbreds ground out touchdowns drives of 50, 67 and 56 yards to horse collar the Toppers 19-0.

In the 21 gridiron meetings of the two state colleges the Throughbreds have won seven of these games and the Toppers have taken ten while four of these rivalries have wound up in deadlocks.

Army ROTC Starts Basketball Season

The first game of the Army ROTC basketball teams was played November 9 at 8:30 p.m. Company A defeated Company B in the first game and Company C defeated Company D in the second game. Cadet 1st Lt. Hardin McLean is in charge of the program.

Wednesday, November 16, Company B will play Company D and Company A will meet Company C in the second game of a double-header.

Games will be every Wednesday beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the College High gym. No admission will be charged.

'Tops In Sports

by GUY NEWCOM

Tomorrow will bring down the curtains on another chapter of Western football history.

It will climax a season that has been full of happiness and sorrow. The team has had great wins and sad losses, but what other season has produced more gallant players than this 1955 season has? Who, under the pressure that this team was under, could have done a better job?

With only three seniors to tuck the new freshmen under their wings, the opening game was under way. The Toppers did a fine job in that first game, beating East Tennessee 21 to 7. Then playing tough Middle Tennessee, the team got its first taste of defeat. They rebounded back the following week to defeat the Morehead Eagles 12 to 7.

Then came the drought. The Hilltoppers went for four long games without the taste of victory. During this span, the team lost their head coach, Jack Clayton, halfback Jim Chambliss, center Bill Strawn and others through illness and injury.

Last Saturday however, the Hilltoppers got their dates mixed up. They thought it was homecoming since Coach Clayton was back on the Hill, and all the ailing players had returned to the line-up. In the mist of the enthusiasm, someone mentioned that they had better play the Homecoming game. With that, the Toppers dashed on to the field to wallop the Evansville Aces 46 to 6. Even though it wasn't the real Homecoming game, it was a great team victory.

Tomorrow will be a big day for the Toppers. It can mean not only a glorious Homecoming, but also a successful season.

Murray will enter the game favored to win over the Toppers in another of the long football classics.

Western and Murray have met twenty-one times over the years. Western has won 19 and Murray 7. There have been four ties. Last year the Throughbreds defeated the Hilltoppers in a hard fought game 19 to 6. If tradition holds true, tomorrow's homecoming game should prove one of the most thrilling games in the history of the two schools.

Murray, more than anything else, would like to see Western's homecoming spoiled. Western, on the other hand, would like to win, to assure a success to the week-end festivities and to give the three senior squad members a good send-off on their road into the future.

The whole student body congratulates Jerry Nassano, Vernon "Tank" Wilson and Dave Patton, for the fine performances which they have turned in during their four years on the Western football team.

Band Day Observed November 12

Western's ninth annual Band Day ceremony, on November 12, was termed "one of the most successful ever held" since the event began in 1946. Dr. Hugh Gunderson, head of the music department at the college said.

Thirteen schools sent 745 band members who paraded from Bowling Green High school, downtown, and then to the stadium where they performed at half-time during the Western-Evansville football game. A mass performance of all band members was conducted by Dr. Gunderson and Mr. Donald McMahon.

Guests of the music department, band members were served refreshments at a reception following the game.

Schools sending bands were Campbellsville, Wayne County, Greenville, Dawson Springs, Elizabethton, Central City, Harford, Beaver Dam, Russellville, Butler County, Caverna and Park City.

Eastern Edges Toppers 7-0

Eastern's battered football force staved off a last minute rally by Western to win a 7-0 Homecoming victory at Richmond, Saturday afternoon November 5.

Fumbles, the clock and a last-second misfire into the end zone saved the game for Eastern.

The Toppers desperate counter-attack, which ended when Jerry Nassano's 21-yard pass to Joe Cunningham on the goal line missed by an eyelash as the game-ending gun sounded.

The Hilltoppers, constantly placed in jeopardy by their own fumbles, twice blunted Eastern drives inside the 5 yard line in the first quarter and then dominated the game until the final period.

Western smashed to the Maroon 13, 14, 20 and 21 yard lines only to be stopped by the power of the Eastern line.

Eastern's payoff drive came after it had held Western 4 downs on its own 13. Here the Maroons took over and under the skillful signal calling of quarterback Bobby Lenderman marched 87 yards in 19 plays. Ernie Rigrish booted the extra point to make it 7-0.

The loss was the second straight by shutout for Western and its fourth in a row for the season. The Toppers now own a 1-3 O.V.C. record.

It was the third straight year the Maroons have conquered Western. They now trail in the series which dates back to 1914, with 9 victories to 19 for the Hilltoppers.

Pom Pom Corps Is Hill's Newest Addition

The youngest organization on the Hill is the pom-pom corp. This dancing group of 24 girls from the Hill performed at all home games this season. Known as the Pizettes these girls practiced 1½ hours for 3 days a week. With Dr. Hugh Gunderson, head of the Music department, as their adviser and Shirley Grooms as director, they are the only pom-pom corp in the state of Kentucky. Only the larger colleges and universities have such an organization.

Their uniforms are white blouses, and shorts, white tennis shoes and socks with red ties and sashes. Their routine for homecoming will be "Dance With Me Henry". The Pizettes are to be featured in a drum major magazine soon to be published in Jonesville, Wisconsin.

Damon Day Dies November 6

Damon Day, BS'50, a native of Cub Run and former Hart County teacher, died early November 6 at his home at Bedford. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He moved to Bedford two months ago to become principal of Trimble County High school.

Survivors include his wife and two sons, Stephen and Timothy Day all of Bedford.

Funeral services and burial were at Munfordville.

McGranhan Assigned To Language School

Sergeant First Class Edgar McGranhan, who has been assigned to the Army ROTC Staff at Western since June 24, 1952, has received orders from Department of the Army transferring him to the Army Language School at the Presidio of Monterey, California where he will study Spanish for 23 weeks. After completing the course, Sergeant McGranhan will be transferred to the Army Military mission in Nicaragua.

Hilltoppers Swamp Aces 46-6 In November 12 Clash

The Hilltoppers waved a magic wand over the Evansville College Aces as they swamped over them 46-6 here Saturday afternoon, November 12.

It seemed that Toppers could do nothing wrong and everything they touched turned to gold. They quickly capitalized on almost every Evansville mistake to score in every quarter.

Almost 4,000 spectators, including members of 14 Kentucky high school bands who were guests saw the Toppers put on their greatest offensive show in several seasons.

Undoubtedly this victory was extremely pleasing to Head Coach Jack Clayton who watched the game from an open window in the second floor of the gym. Coach Clayton is recovering from a major surgery last week at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

The colorful Western grid show was marred somewhat though when headlineman Edgar McNabb, a prominent football and basketball official, suffered a broken shoulder blade when he became entangled in a pileup of Western and Evansville players on the sidelines.

McNabb's shoulder blade was set at Bowling Green hospital and he returned to the stadium as a spectator in the fourth period. The referee, umpire and field judge completed the game.

Western's first four touchdowns came on power drives, sparked by some accurate passing by quarterback Jerry Nassano, of 65, 52, 55 and 62 yards. The fifth tally came after freshman fullback Delane Simpson's interception of a pass and a 40 yard return by him.

Evansville's only touchdown came shortly after Western's fifth score. The Aces took the ball after an on-side kickoff backfired for the Toppers, and marched 48 yards for the marker. Quarterback Dick Sinclair's completion of a pass to Don Henry, who then lateraled to Bill Weinsapel set up the scoring play from nine yards out.

Western used the Evansville breeze as a tune up for their big season finale against arch rival Murray here next Saturday afternoon in their Homecoming game.

All of Western's touchdowns were scored by juniors, sophomores and freshmen.

Two freshmen backs, Tom Fry, Dixie Heights, and Rod Bagby, Covington, tabbed the last two. The ball carrying of junior halfback Jim Chambliss, Sturgis; Dave Browning, freshman from Dixie Heights, freshman Jerry Brewer and Fry sparked.

Fry climaxed an 80-yard drive with a 35-yard run for the Toppers sixth marker and Brewer paved the way for the final with a fumble recovery on the Evansville seven yard line. Bagby scored on the next play.

Western walloped one of the highest scoring Evansville teams in the city college's history. The Aces went into battle favored by two touchdowns. They sported a 6-2 record.

"Male Animal" Termed As Smash Hit

"Male Animal" Given In Franklin Tonight

A DRAMATIC CLIMAX, comes as George Reece, as Professor Turner, reads Vansetti's last letter to his accusers in the climax of the Western Players' fall production, "The Male Animal."

By Sandra Fuqua

The Male Animal presented as the Western Players fall production November 9-10, proved a smash hit and kept the enthusiastic audience in laughter through its three acts.

A happy combination of James Thurber's comic brilliance and Elliot Nugent's gift for human and likeable characterizations, The Male Animal goes to the college campus for its background, using Vansetti's eloquent letter to his daughter as a serious moment in the midst of laughter. It provides a delightful narrative that takes football, sex, academic freedom and the turning worm in its stride.

Clyde W. Riggs gave to Ed Keller, the stadium-building member of the college board of trustees, the proper irritating quality. Mr. Keller is sure that the innocent Professor Turner is a "radical" because he wanted to read Vansetti's letter to his English class.

There is the young professor of English at Midwestern University, married to a pretty young wife whom he caught, as he fears, on the rebound when the handsome halfback hero of their day lost his hold on her affections. George Reece, Western senior from Tompkinsville, was highly convincing as Tommy Turner facing up to a pair of dilemmas. He made an amiable character of the embattled young professor who takes a tip from the tigers and penguins and puts up a fight for his mate.

J. C. Embry, senior from White Mills, played Joe Ferguson, the former All-American halfback who comes into town for the homecoming weekend and almost makes it a "home-breaking" weekend. He gave the handsome footballer a normal male urge to revive his more pleasant social contacts.

As Ellen Turner, Professor Turner's pretty young wife, who toys with the idea of running off with her beau of undergraduate days, Betty Webb, junior from Louisville, was highly effective in the varying moods of the comedy.

Gregg O'Neil, Corole Snyder and

Dewey Bratcher played the current college counterparts of the principals with believable earnestness. Geraldine Dame, Gene D. Griffin, Lucy Brent, Bernice Deaton, Bob Raley, Richard R. Smith and Thomas O. Robinson all contributed convincing characterizations to complete the picture.

Director Russell H. Miller chose to keep the 1940 period of the play. Set in the living room (and lighting room) of Professor Turner designed by Adam P. Matheny Jr., and executed by Gene D. Griffin and Dewey Bratcher, decor took on a typical mid-western conventional modern tone. Stage Manager Maurice Utley and directorial assistants Wayne C. Everly and Eva Foraythe deserve commendation on the smooth running of all technical aspects of the show.

The Western Players' production of The Male Animal moves to Goodnight Memorial Auditorium in Franklin for a special benefit presentation on November 18. Sponsored by the PTA, all proceeds for this presentation will go to promotion of a library for Middleton School of Simpson County.

Ivan Wilson Has Exhibition In Kentucky Building

An exhibit of twenty-four water color paintings by Prof. Ivan Wilson, of the Art department, is being held in the Faculty room of the Kentucky Building. They will remain until after Homecoming.

As Mr. Wilson paints from imagination based on memory, these paintings are of landscape scenes, consisting of mountain ranges, country roads, the seashore, spring and winter scenes and the sunset.

It was not until 1935 that Mr. Wilson began to use water colors exclusively for his paintings. Before that time his work was with oils.

Most of the paintings on display are for sale.

Because of many students expressing a desire to own one of his watercolors, Mr. Wilson has consented to offer these for sale.

Gayle Carver, curator of the museum, or Mr. Wilson will help anyone with a selection.

Rifle Team Begins Practice

The team has five men returning from last year. They are: James D. Brent, Ronald E. Coulter, George E. LeGrand, Larry C. Westfield, and William A. Wethington.
